Capitol Sales Named As National Distributor for Fusion's newest Movie Server

Fusion selects Capitol Sales to be the exclusive national distributor for its new Entry-level Studio Movie Server.

Danville, CA - 5/20/09 - Fusion Research announced today it has selected Capitol Sales Company as its exclusive national distributor for its new low-cost Studio Movie Server.

"When we first decided to design a new lower priced movie server, we wanted right the partner to be able to get it out in the marketplace in a big way, and Capitol Sales was our choice from the very beginning," said Fusion's President Joseph Storm. "The fit was perfect from our perspective, because of Capitol Sales' reputation for knowledgeable sales people and emphasis on training."

"Fusion's new Studio Movie Server is an important new product for several good reasons, not the least of which is how it gives our installers the perfect tool for building business through a desirable and cost-effective add-on sale," commented Curt Hayes, President and CFO of Capitol Sales. "The benefit of exchanging the clutter of DVD boxes with a sleek, easy-to-use server that can distribute programming throughout the home is something that consumers understand and appreciate."

Fusion's new Studio Movie Server has a MSRP of $3495 and stores 250 DVDs; adding your own storage as well as the ability to add additional zones can expand the system. Studio boasts the same award winning interface and video quality of Fusion's flagship Cinema Server and Genesis product lines.
